Artist's Statement

All the images in the paintings in this show are variations on the still-life. The objects in each of the works are familiar, domestic and of little value in themselves. In their natural state, as pots on a patio or jugs on a kitchen counter, they are hardly worth a second glance. But by being arranged in a painting, by inhabiting a composition and being transformed with often unexpected color, they assume a new life. In addition, some of the compositions are representational and objects are seen in a more or less normally accepted space. Others break away from the traditional view and objects are fragmented, depth disappears and color is arbitrary.

Still-life painting is always a way for the viewer to escape since still-life paintings generally have no religious or political message. Viewing a still-life is to be part of a small and controlled world that requires simply to feel the influence of color, shape and space and to enjoy seeing. Like all painting, the image is an illusion because if you reach for an apple, all you will feel is paint and canvas.

SPOTLIGHT FILM: HAVING IT ALL

Thursday, February 11, 7:00 PM

Three women set out to live their dreams of balancing career, marriage, and children. After two trying years of unanticipated trade-offs and painful sacrifices, each finds herself with a changed life and a changed idea of what Having it All really means.

You may stay for a discussion with Having it All's filmmaker, Vlada Knowlton.

Free film, $5 suggested donation

CAROL

"Haynes taps into universal anxieties about love and relationships without ever letting go of the sense of imprisonment that came with being gay in the 1950s."
 -David Sims, The Atlantic

February 12-15

TURANDOT (Puccini)

Sunday, February 14, 1:00 PM

Swedish dramatic soprano Nina Stemme sings her first Met performances of the demanding title role of Puccini's Chinese ice princess, with Anita Hartig in her company role debut as the angelic slave girl Liù. Marco Berti sings Calaf, the suitor who risks his head for Turandot's hand, and Alexander Tsybalyuk sings Timur

MILK MEN THE LIFE AND TIMES OF DAIRY FARMERS

Thursday, February 18, 7:00 PM

MILK MEN challenges conventional stereotypes of farming communities, and establishes through the language of film areas of common ground between urban and rural communities. Director Jan Haaken will be in attendance.

Admission for this special pre-film festival screening: $12 general, $10 members, $8 seniors and students.

BROOKLYN

BROOKLYN tells the profoundly moving story of Ellis Lacey (Saoirse Ronan), a young Irish immigrant navigating her way through 1950s Brooklyn. Lured by the promise of America, Ellis departs Ireland and the comfort of her mother's home for the shores of New York City.

February 20-22

NT LIVE: AS YOU LIKE IT

Thursday, February 25, 7:00 PM
 Sunday, March 6, 1:00 PM

Shakespeare's glorious comedy of love and change comes to the National Theatre for the first time in over 30 years, with Rosalie Craig (London Road, Macbeth at MIF) as Rosalind.

Advance Tickets: $16 adults, $14 seniors, $12 students and children, with $2 off for Lincoln Theatre members. Fees may apply.

SPOTLIGHT

SPOTLIGHT tells the riveting true story of the Pulitzer Prize-winning Boston Globe investigation that would rock the city and cause a crisis in one of the world's oldest and most trusted institutions.

February 26-29

COCO MONTOYA

Friday, February 5, 7:30 PM

Long ago, legendary blues man Albert Collins took a young Coco Montoya aside and told him, "Son, just play what's in your heart." That has been Coco's mantra as he's toured the world cultivating fans with his intense music and warm personality. A self-taught guitar slinger who plays with an emotional intensity few string benders possess, he plays left-handed and upside down in the style of Albert King and Jimi Hendrix.

Advanced Tickets: $35 1st section, $30 2nd section, $25 3rd section, $20 4th section, plus applicable fees. Lincoln and REFA Members receive a $2 discount. Fees may apply.

RABBIT WILDE

Album release concert for The Heartland

Friday, February 19, 8:00 PM

Rabbit Wilde deliver on the promise made by its stellar fall 2015 EP Southern Winters, mining the best of the American songbook, melding the choicest bits of indie rock, pop, blues, soul, and orchestral arrangement in with their trademark brand of front-porch-shaking folk. The Warren G. Hardings and The Battlefield open the show.

Advance tickets: $20 adults, $15 students Lincoln Members receive a $2 discount. Fees may apply.
